

GLOBAL ALLIANCE FOR TRAINING IN HEALTH EQUITY RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN ADVANCING YOUR CAREER IN HEALTH DISPARITIES RESEARCH GLOBALLY? IF SO, APPLY TO BE A GATHER FELLOW.

As a Fellow with the Global Alliance for Training in Health Equity Research (GATHER) at the Drexel Dornsife School of Public Health (DSPH), you will be supported while conducting health equity research in the U.S. and around the world.

Fellows will partner with mentors (DSPH faculty and GATHER advisory committee members), receive intensive skills-based research training, and have an opportunity to travel to one of four research sites in Brazil, Kenya, Mexico and Burkina Faso.

Becoming a GATHER Fellow offers doctoral students and postdoctoral trainees a chance to advance their careers and develop expertise in global health equity issues, while joining the DSPH's extensive international network of public health scholars across Latin America and Africa.

GATHER Fellowships include:

- Coverage of travel, housing and living expenses while at a global research site
- A stipend and mentorship throughout the 6-9 month fellowship
