

International Seminar on Migration in the Past: Patterns, Causes, Consequences, and Implications

Online, 28 October 2022

Seminar organized by the IUSSP Scientific Panel on Historical Demography in collaboration with the Center for Social Research, Guanghua School of Management, Peking University

Organizing Committee: Hao Dong (Peking University), Lionel Kesztenbaum (Institut National d'Études Démographiques), Martin Dribe (Lund University)

Zoom meeting information: TBC.

If you are interested in participating in the seminar, please register via emailing your name and institutional affiliation to historical_demography@outlook.com. We will reply to registered participants with the Zoom meeting info before the seminar.

Program

Introduction

(8:00-8:10 Universal Time UTC)

(4:00 am New-York / 10:00 Paris / 11:00 Nairobi / 13:30 New Delhi / 16:00 Beijing / 17:00 Tokyo)

Session 1. Patterns and Determinants of Migration

(8:10-10:10 Universal Time UTC)

(4:10 am New-York / 10:10 Paris / 11:10 Nairobi / 13:40 New Delhi / 16:10 Beijing / 17:10 Tokyo)

1. Determinants of French Canadian Migration to the United States, 1852-1881
Presenter: Marielle Cote-Gendreau (Princeton University)
2. Trends and Patterns of Migration in Pre- and Post-Independent India: A Historical Perspective
Presenter: Bijoy Bhattacharjee (Indian Institute of Technology, with Archana K. Roy)
3. Kin Networks and Migration in Revolutionary China, 1946-1966
Presenter: Matthew Noellert (Hitotsubashi University, with Xiangning Li)
4. Patterns and Covariates of Migration in Early Modern Japan: Evidence from Two Northeastern Villages, 1716-1870
Presenter: Noriko Tsuya (Keio University, with Satomi Kurosu)

(Break 10:10-11:00 Universal Time UTC)

Session 2. Consequences and Implications of Migration

(11:00-13:00 Universal Time UTC)

(7:00 am New-York / 13:00 Paris / 14:00 Nairobi / 16:30 New Delhi / 19:00 Beijing / 20:00 Tokyo)

1. Settlement, Migration and the Politics of Ownership, Identity and Belonging in Isiolo Town Kenya
Presenter: Kennedy Gitu (British Institute in Eastern Africa)

2. Were Migrants Healthier than Non-migrants in the Past? A Case of Urban Population in Early Modern Northeastern Japan
Presenter: Satomi Kurosu (Reitaku University, with Miyuki Takahashi and Hao Dong)

3. Premium or Penalty? Occupation and Earnings of Ottoman Immigrants in the United States, 1900-1940
Presenter: Rami Zalfou (Lund University, with Martin Dribe)

4. Spatial Circulation of Qing Civil Officials, 1762-1911
Presenter: Cameron Campbell (HKUST, with Shengbin Wei)